"This is a work of great interest, from one of the most learned and accomplished writers of the age, revealing the mysteries of the world in which those live who have been deprived of the sense of sight or hearing. Ever since his boyhood, for more than thirty years, Dr. Kitto has passed a life of great activity as a scholar, in a state of the most intense deafness to which any living creature can be subjected. His account of himself, and of his discriminating remarks on the condition of the blind, (James Mitchell, Laura Bridgeman, and others,) are replete with profound thought on the interesting phenomenon presented in the progress of their mental training."—Christian Observer.

MACHINE FOR CRUSHING, GRINDING, AND PULVERIZING.

Recently Patented in this Country and Europe. Recently Patented in this Country and Europe.
COCHRAN'S Planospherical Quantz Caushino and Pulversizing Machines are now in daily operation for the inspection of the public, and will be submitted to any reasomable practical tests proposed by parties interested.
These machines, by their simplicity of construction, their durability, the undoubted principles upon which they operate, their effective operation and result, are justly entitled to the consideration of all parties engaged in grinding, crushing, and Pulverizing Quartz, Iron Ore, Zinc, Copper, and Lead Ores, and all other Ores or Mineral substances.
It is the peculiar feature of the economy of these machines that they are found capable of crushing and pulverizing into the finest powder any amount of Quartz or other earthy matter, in proportion to the amount of weight or power applied. The earthy matter is so completely ground and pulverized, that the Gold may be easily separated, and subjected to any process of smalganuation that may be necessary.

The machines work and deliver wat or dry, as may be re-subjected to any process of amalgamation that may be necessary.

The machines work and deliver wet or dry, as may be required, and run with little friction, (being almost without machinery) requiring no lubricating; the principle upon which they operate precludes the possibility of their being put out of order; nor do they heat any material while being put out of order; nor do they heat any material while being put out of order; nor do they heat any material while being put order. They are at once applicable for all purposes of grinding and pulverizing, from those required by the Druggist to those of the most extensive operations in California and Australia.

These machines are from two to twelve feet in diameter, with balls or spheres from three inches to five feet in diameter, each machine weighing from 250 pounds to 20 tons each, and are sold, with the right to use them, at from $100 to $5,000 each.

ster, each mashine weigning from 200 possions to 20 to $5,000 each.

They can be worked by steam, water, horse or manual power, according to their size; and by changing the velocity and proportioning the weight on the top of the balls, any desired amount of power may be used, from that of a man or horse upward.

The proprietors of this invention solicit examination, and will prove by practical tests the vast superiority and economy of these machines over any other, for crucking, grinding, or putersing, heretofore affered to the public.

These machines may be seen in operation at the foot of South Eighth Street, Williamsburgh, at the large Patent Block and Saw Factory of Messrs. Burr, Waterman & Co., first street south of Peck Slip Ferry, every day, from 7 to 0 a. m., and from 4 to 8 p. m. For further particulars, apply to

THE Eighth Volume of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN commences on the 18th of September. It is principally devoted to the diffusion of useful practical knowledge, and is eminently calculated to advance the great interests of industry—Mechanical, Manufacturing and Agricultural—the gentus and master-spirit of the nation.

It is unrivalled as a Journal of the Arts and Sciences, and maintains a high character at home and abroad.

The publishers pledge themselves that the future volumes shall at least equal, if not surpass their predecesors. Among the subjects chiefly brought forward and discussed in its columns, are Civil Engineering, Architecture, Railroads, Bridges, Arricultural Implements, Manufactures of Metals, Fibrous and Textile Substances, Machinery for the purpose, Chemical processes, Distilling, Coloring, &c., Steam and Gas Engines, Boliers and Furnaces, Mathomatical, Philosophical and Optical Instruments, Cars, Carriages, Water Wheels, Wind and Grinding Mills Powers, Planing Machines, Toels for Lumber, Brick Machines, Farming, Fire Arms, Electricity, Telegraphs, Surgical Instruments, &c., besides Claims of all Patents, Reviews, Notices of New Inventions, American and Foreign. The work is in form for binding, contains several hundred Engfavings, over four hundred pages of printed matter, and a copious Index. Nearly all the valuable Patents which issue weekly from the Patent Office are illustrated with Engravings in its columns, thus making the paper a perfect Mechanical Encyclopedia for future as well as pressur reference.

Valuable Premiums are offered for the largest list of Subscribers to this Volume. It is published weakly by MUNN & CO., at their Patent Agency Office, 128 Fuktor street, New York.

KRAUSER'S PATENT CLOVER-SEED HAR-

KRAUSER'S PATENT CLOVER-SEED HARVESTER IS BEFORE THE PUBLIC FOR THE FIRST TIME
ITS utility is beyond comparison with any other farming implement now in use. It takes the seed from the field, leaving the straw or grass all standing. It weight two hundred and fifty pounds, is drawn by one horse, and gathers from ten to twelve acros per day. The fingers, or teeth, catch all the heads, the revolving knives cut them off and throw them back into the box, which will cross a twentyacre field without emptying. The heads are then leaded into a wagon and taken directly to the mill for cleaning, thus diminishing the labor three-fourths, and saving all the seed. This machine comes so low that certy farmer will have it, and pays the manufacturer 300 per cent.

We, the undersigned, do certify that we have seen Mr.

Krauser's Patent Clover Harvester in operation, and it has given perfect satisfaction. It has gathered many of the farmers' clover in this neighborhood—it is all that Mr. Krauser and his bills represent it to be. The farmers have given one-half for gathering and threshing.

This is to certify that Mr. G. J. Naylor has gathered clover off of a sixteen-acre field of raine, which has been pastured two months with ten liesd of cattle, and it produced six bushels and a half and one peck of seed. I gave him two-thirds for gathering and cleaning. I think his machine is first-rate, and answers all the purpose that is intended.

Perhaps no invention offers greater inducements for a profitable investment than the Harvester. Transition Coal.

Transition Coal.

This rare and valuable Coal is a variety not quite changed into an anthracite, and it has only been discovered (in large quantitiee) at three places upon our globe, viz: at South Wales, Great Britain; at Donets, in Russia, near the Black See; and at Dauphin and Lebanon counties, Pennsylvania. In the London market this coal commands the highest price. It is now mined upon the large estate (43,000 acress) of the Dauphin and Susquehanna Coal Company, situated in Pennsylvania, and it is nearer to the cities of Baltimore and Washington than the coal of any other region. For easy significe, durability of fire, complete computation, easy adaptation to the temperature of the weather, and its great power in generating heat, it is the user coal in the world. It has the inflammability of the bituminous coal, with the cleanliness of the anthracite, and a greater durability than either. It burns without making any socior visible smoke, and the combustion is so complete that it retains the fire until all the coal is consumed. Not so with the anthracites, especially the hard and heavy kinds. They do not burn up, and honce the common troublesome practice of sifting their sahes to obtain more fuel. In burning the Transition Coal there is no weate, for the small coals made by handling, burn as well as ordinary coal. All thould be taken out.

A very erroneous impression exists with many persons burned together. If screened at all the dust only should be taken out.

A very erroneous impression exists with many persons that the heuriest ceals are the most economical for ordinary purposes. This might be the case if ceals were rold by measurement, but never when they are sold by whom. In Taylor's valuable work, (Statistics of Ceal,) the details are given to show that 31 pounds of a free-burning red ashyielded more heat to a room in 16 hours, than 37 pounds of a heavy white ash coal, making the red ash, at $5.50, to be more economical than the white ash at $4.01 per ton. Any person accustomed to use these heavy costs will be astonished at the saving which can be made in burning the lighterishinds, when tested by the weight and burnt in a suitable manner.

isbed at the saving which can be made in burning the lighter kinds, when tested by the weight and burnt in a suitable manner.

An apprehension exists with some that the free-burning coals have a tendency to elinker. Now, as a general rule, no coal will clinker unless agreater draught be applied to it than the coal naturally requires. No one would think of applying a beliews constantly to a firs made of seasoned bickory or cak wood, and it would be equally as absumit to apply a light constantly to a firs made of seasoned bickory or cak wood, and it would be equally as absumit to apply a light constantly to a fire burning coal. But the heavy white sh anthracites cannot be burnt without a powerful draft, and without using a larger quantity of coal than the temperature of the weather sometimes requires. Various pat terms of stoves, furnees, cooking ranges, &c., are invented annually to conquer this difficulty, but it has never been done with complete success. In every contrivance, however, which has been invented to burn coal, the transition variety will make a beautiful fire, and no complaint will over be made to a manufacturer or seller of grates or stoves when this coal is used. The draft alone is to be regulated by a damper. In introducing this new coal for the first time, prepared as it now is by steam power machinery for domestic use, it may give greater confidence to the buyer to say that the celebrated free-burning red ash velus in the Peach Orchard district, near Pottsville, are a continuation of the Dauphin veins, and they approach the nearest in value to the Transition coal.

Shipments of the Transition coal have already been made to the District of Columbia, and it can be obtained a retail from the following persons:

DENTISTRY.

DENTISTRY.

PR. CASADAVANT, Surgeon Dentist, formerly from Paris and New York, returns hiss incere thanks to the citizens of Washington and Georgetown and vicinities for the liberal patronage which they have extended: 1. m since he has established himself in this city, and would inform them that he has removed to Lane & Tucker's building, on Ponnsylvania avenue, between the National Hotel and 4½ street, where he still continues to perform all operations in his profession in a superior manner, at New York prices, so as to enable all to test his skill, and he warrants his work to be equal to that of the best Bentists. As he manufactures his own artificial teeth, he is enabled to suit all cases, and will undertake to perform all those operations in which other Bentists have failed to succeed. He will refer to many citizens of Washington and Georgetown, for whom he has performed operations.

Protection from Lightning.

Protection from Lightning.

The undersigned, being the duly appointed Agent of Spratt's Electrican and Plectro-Matallurous Lightning.

No-Rod Manuractor, Covington, Kentucky, begs to offer these superior Rods, of Spiral-twisted, Carbonized Annealed Iron, with Zinc Protectors, and Electro-positive elements combined in their manufacture; thus rendering them equal to copper as conductors. They are in ten-feet lengths, with accurately-fitted brass-screw convecting joints, an entire new style of metallic (patented) attachments, for brick or frame buildings; also, glass isolaters, of a novel and ingenious construction, (patented), forming a lock; the whole mounted with a solid platinum silver point, (patented), twelve inches long, surrounded at the base with three angular negative magnets, which possess the power, to an extraordinary extent, of discharging the opposite elements of the most fearful thunderstorm, and embrace the entire perfection of science up to the present time; the whole constituting the most magnificent and perfect silent conductor ever presented to the public.

Basety has not been compromised by affording these excellent rods at such low rates; the greatest attention has been given to their construction, so as to be readily attached. The astonishing power of the negative magnets, in discharging the air of its opposite elements, has been clearly demonstrated by the Electrometer, when unmagnetized points have shown but slight results, though pisced under the same conditions. In fact, they gather and silently discharge electricity from the atmosphere when you would scarcely suspect any being present.

These improvements being secured by double letters patout, you are hereby cautioned against laying yourselves liable, by purchasing of those who are not authorized, or who are substituting inferior imitations. All agents duly appointed can show their certificates. Have good rods or none.

CHARLES W. HEYDON,
Washington City.

Washington City.

I do hereby certify that I have app lied various powerful chemical reagents to Spratt's Patent Points for Lightning-Rods, and that the results of these experiments convince me that they will resist the action of atmospheric causes, and thereby preserve the extremity sharp—a condition most essential to protection against lightning. The reagents used in the above experiments were a solution of chloride of so dium, (common salt.) acetic acid, sulphuric acid, and hydrochloric acid. With the first, there was no action on the metal; with the several acids, there was very slight—a fact sufficient to show that atmospheric influences would have no sensible effect.

JOHN LECONTE, Prof. of Nat. Phil. et Chem.
UNIVERSITY OF GA., October S, 1850.

The Lightning Conductors of Mr. Spratt, offered to me, are well calculated to perform the office for which they are intended. Yours, truly, Ernorton, Kv., February 20, 1850.

Chicago, September 3, 1850. I This may certify that I have examined, somewhat critically, James Spratt's Patent Lightning Rods, and that I am of opinion that it is constructed on scientific principles. For combining durability, cheapness, and efficacy, I deem it equal, and I think superior, to any other rod ever offered for my inspection.

Augusta, (GA.) November 11, 1850.

combining authors, combining and I think superior, to any other rod ever one-regarding and I think superior, to any other rod ever one-regarding for my inspection.

Augusta, (G.) November 11, 1850.

This will certify that I have examined the Lightning Rods, Metallic Points, and Isolating Attachments, manufactured by Mr. Spratt, and regard them as constructed in conformity to the general laws of the electric fluid; and the metallic compound constituting the Points, as promising, from the result of several tests to which they were submitted, to resist for years the action of those atmospheric causes most likely to cerrode them.

A. MEANS,

Prof. Phys. Sc., Emory College, Ga., and Prof. Chem. and Pharm, Medical College, Ga.

The Lightning Conductors put up by Mr. Henry M. Smith, of this city, on the plan of Mr. Spratt, appear to me to be very well devised; and, in point of mechanical construction, very well devised; and, in point of medianness construction, are the best I have ever seen.

It is to be hoped that the use of these Rode may become general, se an important auxiliary defence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.
